

Living Harmony has recently acquired an educational and healing centre in Slovenia. It is situated in Gaberje, near Lendava, in the beautiful region of Prekmurje, Eastern Slovenia.

Living Harmony has already successfully hosted an Earth Healing Gathering to celebrate the opening of its new centre. 60 people took part in a transformative event to help heal the planet, while meeting inspiring speakers and facilitators from all over the world (for more details, go to www.livingharmony.co.uk)

We at Living Harmony have long held the vision to re-awaken others to the infinite possibilities for transformation from any starting point. By connecting with the wisdom of the natural world, we aim to re-create a relationship with the environment and assist in healing both ourselves and the planet.

The Living Harmony Centre in Slovenia is an international centre of excellence for learning, research and transformation. It is the perfect venue for seminars, workshops and courses on energy medicine, personal and spiritual development and environmental healing. It is residential and available for hire for courses and workshops from like-minded souls.
